by Miami Bucket List

With a nightlife like Miami's, you need a lifesaving brunch scene. Thankfully, Magic City delivers. Showing up in sweats to guzzle coffee and breakfast burgers? Welcome. Taking your grandparents out for a charming meal? Brunch it is. Ordering bottomless drinks at 10 AM? More power to you.

From waterfront bistros to buzzing rooftop lounges, to diners infused with Cuban and Colombian flavors, you can find it all in Miami. We rounded up the top spots in the city for a delicious brunch—whether you need a strong pot of coffee or a pitcher of bloody marys.

The Top 10 Places for Brunch in Miami

Chug's Diner

Chug's Diner, a Coconut Grove institution acclaimed by Michelin for its Cuban and American diner fare, is a must-visit. Named for its Chef, this spot serves up cast iron pancakes, steak cut and smoked bacon, fluffy pastelitos, harina con huevos and masitas, and more—all served in the diner setting of cozy leather booths alongside a lineup of whipped cream milkshakes and malts.

Where: 3444 Main Hwy Suite 21, Miami, FL
